Project Description

The VSFS intern will create and implement an 8-episode virtual outreach program that showcases the roles Afghan Americans play in their communities, as well as their day-to-day experiences living in the U.S. The program will include a mix of live-broadcast on-line events. All presenters should speak Dari or Pashto:

- Virtual Tours: Conduct a virtual tour of a mosque, a family's home, a school, or other sites the intern may suggest.
- Virtual Interview: Interview leading Afghan-Americans. The intern may conduct the interview, or arrange for someone else to be the interviewer.
- Virtual Speakers: Presentations by Afghan-Americans about their areas of expertise. Prior speakers included Imams, activists, politicians, and a fashion designer.

Additional Information

The audience for this program will be high school and university students located throughout Afghanistan. They will participate in groups based out of Lincoln Learning Centers, a 21-city network of embassy-sponsored educational centers.

The intern will have wide latitude to develop and implement the program, and will create the project plan, recruit participants, run the presentations, and manage all logistical components, working in conjunction with an Afghan colleague at the U.S. Embassy. The ideal candidate should be creative, organized, a strong communicator, and capable of operating with limited supervision or guidance. Dari or Pashto fluency is highly desired.

The Intern's supervisor will be an American Foreign Service Officer, but most day-to-day contact will be with English-speaking Afghan colleagues at the U.S. Embassy and the Lincoln Learning Centers.
